Sometimes there are animals that just give you the heebie jeebies and you may not be able to explain why. Topping the list are probably bats, spiders, snakes, but how about nocturnal animals like mice, owls, raccoons, ooh and possums. Maybe by the end of story time we can make these creatures a little less scary. Join us for this fur raising story time on Thursday October 24th at 10:30 a.m.

Okay kids, I am reluctant to let go of Summer so I thought a Cobb salad with fresh vegetables would be a great way to wrap up the harvest season. According to Wikipedia this popular salad is the product of a late night mish-mash of leftovers thrown together for or by Robert Howard Cobb, the owner of the Hollywood Brown Derby restaurant in 1937. Bacon and French(or vinaigrette) dressing are two of the signature ingredients of this salad the other ingredients include salad greens, tomatoes, bacon, chicken breast, hard-boiled eggs, avocado, chives, and roquefort cheese. So you may be asking where is the corn, which is what I wondered the first time I ordered this salad thinking that the Cobb indicated the presence of corn in the salad. No corn, alas the Cobb is paying tribute to Robert Howard Cobb. Please join us while we learn fun new ways to prepare a salad and how to plate a dish so it is visually appealing on Thursday October 24th at 3:00 p.m.
